

The journey to better lung health policy starts here.

Invest

Respiratory diseases lack a dedicated allocation in the EU's budget, receiving only a small portion of health funding, while 13% of European live with a lung disease, and the trends show that this is increasing. There are no EU-wide policy nor specific resources allocated to tackle this major healthcare burden.

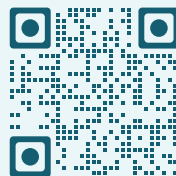

Prevent

Lung diseases are responsible for 1 in 8 deaths in the EU, representing the third most common cause of death, even though most are preventable. A 'health in all policies' approach can help reverse the deadly causes.

Care

In Europe, patients with asthma and COPD wait an average of 4-5 years for an accurate diagnosis. Access to essential respiratory care should not depend on a postal code.

Take a deep breath, scan the code and join the European campaign led by nine patient and medical societies.

#KeepBreathing

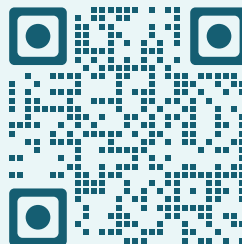

The journey to better lung health policy starts here.

We bring together 9 European level patient and healthcare professional organisations gathering more than 175 member associations across 42 European countries working towards the same goal: better lung health for all.
